COOKIE POLICY

We inform you that the personal data voluntarily provided by you to OMAG SNC will be processed in compliance with EU Regulation 2016/679 and, in any case, with the principles of confidentiality that inspire the activities of OMAG SNC.

It is specified that the specific discipline regarding the use of so-called "cookies" – as well as other similar technologies such as web beacons/web bugs, clear GIFs, pixel tags, etc. – on the various terminals used by users visiting our website (personal computers, tablets, smartphones, etc.) will be described below. Cookies are used to improve the services we offer. Some are strictly necessary for the functionality of the site, while others allow for optimizing performance and providing a better user experience. Below, you will find detailed information on what cookies are, what type of cookies this website uses, how you can uninstall them from your browser, and how to specifically block cookies from so-called "third parties."

The use of cookies by the owner of this website https://www.omag-snc.it, OMAG SNC, hereinafter referred to as "site or website" for brevity, falls within its Privacy Policy; for all the information required by Articles 13 and 14 of the GDPR 2016/679 and subsequent national adaptation regulations, reference is made to the subsequent Privacy Policy. OMAG SNC uses cookies to offer its services simply and efficiently to users during browsing and consultation of its pages.

What are Cookies? Cookies are small text files that are saved on your computer, or on other browsing-enabled devices such as smartphones or tablets, when you visit a website. To learn more, please visit the website http://www.allaboutcookies.org/

a. Technical Cookies. This site uses technical cookies, installed by the site itself in order to monitor the functioning of the site and allow efficient navigation on it. Below are listed, for each technical cookie that may be used, the name, purpose of use, and type/duration.

c. Profile Cookies. Third-party profiling cookies. During navigation on this site, the user may receive profiling cookies installed and managed by third parties in order to send advertising messages in line with the preferences expressed by the user while browsing the internet. This happens because, as indicated above, the site may contain elements that reside on servers other than the one on which the visited site is located. Where third parties set cookies while you are visiting this site, they obtain information about users who have visited it. More information on the use of cookies is available by accessing the link provided on the third party's website. Refusal to consent to the use of third-party profiling cookies does not interfere with the ability to access the site. Below, we report the name of the third-party cookies that may be installed by them through the site, the purpose, the name of the third party, and the link to the third party's website.

How to disable cookies: By default, almost all web browsers are set to automatically accept cookies. However, it is possible to change this default configuration through the browser settings. Disabling/blocking cookies or deleting them could, however, prevent the optimal use of some areas of the site, impede the use of certain services, and make browsing slower. The configuration of cookie management depends on the browser used. Usually, cookie settings are made from the "Preferences", "Tools", or "Options" menu.
